2014 FIFA World Cup broadcasting rights

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The broadcasting rights for the 2014 FIFA World Cup were sold directly by FIFA, or through licensed companies or organizations such as the European Broadcasting Union, Organización de Televisión Iberoamericana, African Union of Broadcasting, International Media Content, Inter-Sports Marketing, M-League, Dentsu, RS International Broadcasting & Sports Management^[1] and MP & Silva.^[2] Airlines companies such as Etihad Airways had in-flight live telecasts of all 64 matches.^[3]

Several territories and countries (for example, India, Italy, Algeria, Korea Republic) are grouped as they share common broadcasters, and sometimes, common geographic space.
